

Dictation Sheet

Cool Reading 1-Unit 01 [Track 01-04]

Listen and fill in the blanks.

p8, Passage 1 [Track 01]

Many years ago, the trickster Sam Hyde got _____. He decided to visit a farmhouse. When he got to the farmhouse, he told the farmer, "I shot a _____ in a field." Then, he added, "I want a piece of gold and a glass of apple cider. In return, I'll tell you _____." The farmer agreed, so Sam told him to find a large ash tree by a creek in a meadow. One year later, the farmer came across Sam again. "You _____ to me. There was no deer in the meadow," the farmer yelled. Sam answered, "Why are you _____ at me? I told you the _____ half the time." The farmer asked how. Sam responded, "You found the meadow and the tree. Clearly, I told you two truths and one lie."

p10, Passage 2 [Track 02]

Colors can tell a lot about people. What's your _____ color? If you don't have one, what color are your favorite clothes? Let's look at these popular colors.

If you like the color...

- Red: You are outgoing. You don't mind being the center of _____. You like being the winner. But patience is not your strong point.
- Orange: You are friendly and optimistic. You love outdoor activities such as camping and climbing mountains.
- _____ : You are cheerful and creative, but you are also a perfectionist.
- Green: You love _____. You enjoy helping others and being in social groups.
- Blue: You are _____. You cry easily at sad movies. You don't like to draw attention to yourself.
- Black: You always want to be in control. You are not good at _____ yourself _____ others.
- White: You are neat and _____. Before acting, you tend to think _____.
- Pink: You like to give and receive love.

p12, Passage 3 [Track 03]

Take a look at this animal. Is that a horse living underwater? Well, it is not really a horse. It is a fish. But we still call it a seahorse.

The seahorse is one of the most _____ fish in the world. First, it has no teeth or _____, so food passes through its body very quickly. This means the seahorse has to _____.

The seahorse is also a very _____ swimmer. Some species move fewer than 1.5 meters per hour. To communicate its _____ and intentions, it changes the _____ of its body.

But do you know the most interesting fact about it? Male and female seahorses _____ roles, so the dads have the babies instead of the moms. The female deposits her eggs in a pouch in the male. Then, the male takes _____ of the eggs until they hatch.

p14, Passage 4 [Track 04]

Superman, Batman, and Wonder Woman are three famous superheroes. But they only _____ in comic books and movies. On the other hand, we are surrounded by real-life heroes.

One night, eight-year-old Tyler Doohan woke up. He found that the house was _____. He helped six people get out of the house safely. Sadly, he lost his life while trying to help two other people. Thirteen-year-old McClain Hermes _____ old shoes and gives them _____ the homeless. In five years, she has collected more than 10,000 pairs of shoes. Middle school student Jeremy Wuitschick was on a school bus _____ of children. Suddenly, the driver had a heart attack. Jeremy _____ the bus and gave the driver CPR until an ambulance arrived.

Those three kids don't have superpowers such as incredible strength and the _____ to fly. But the people they _____ still think of them as superheroes.

Cool Reading 1-Unit 02 [Track 05-08]

Listen and fill in the blanks.

p18, Passage 5 [Track 05]

Do you have _____ falling asleep at night? When you wake up, do you still feel _____? If you answered yes, keep reading.

-Make sure your bedroom is dark, cool, and _____.

-If you typically go to bed at 10, then you should do that every night. And _____ at the same time every morning. _____ to doing this even on the weekend.

-Do something relaxing prior to going to bed. For instance, read a book for about 15 minutes _____ you turn off the lights.

-Before _____, don't eat any food or drink anything with caffeine in it.

-_____ exercising four hours before you go to sleep.

Try these suggestions for the next month and _____ what happens. You will sleep like a baby. You'll never _____ about insomnia again.

p20, Passage 6 [Track 06]

"Oh, my God, Justin Bieber is so hot! I'm his biggest fan. I've got all of his CDs. I've seen every video with him in it hundreds of times. When I see him at tonight's concert, I might cry or faint."

Celebrity crushes are _____. There have been _____ pop stars since the 1800s. For the most part, celebrity crushes are _____ and fun, but some girls and boys can go too far. They are negatively affected by their celebrity crushes. They get too emotionally involved. They _____ all of their _____ and _____ on their favorite celebrity. If you have a celebrity crush, make sure it doesn't get out of hand. Find a new _____ or play a sport. Don't focus so much on that celebrity. After all, even though celebrities are famous, they are not always interesting or even _____ in person.

p22, Passage 7 [Track 07]

Dear Mark,

I'm still in Tibet. I just went on a trekking trip in the Himalaya Mountains. You won't _____ what happened to me. My group and I went to the mountains. We saw some _____ footprints there. Then, we heard a loud roar. Our Sherpa guides became very _____. One of them started whispering, "Yeti," in a frightened voice.

Then, a huge monster suddenly _____. It was more than 3 meters _____ and was covered in long white _____. It stood like a human, but it definitely wasn't one. It looked at us, and then it roared louder than a train. All of us closed our eyes in fear. When we opened them, the monster was gone.

I remember that my dad used to _____ about this legendary creature. Well, we came face to face with a yeti. I'll never forget that.

Serena

p24, Passage 8 [Track 08]

Some people _____ new machines, and others come up with brilliant designs. But people like using inventors' and designers' new _____ without paying for them. Do you think that is okay? It is illegal to steal someone's car. Likewise, it is illegal to steal someone's invention. Why is that? The invention is considered property. And the inventor has a patent on it.

A patent is a document which is given to a person by a government. It reads that the person is the owner of a specific invention or design, so only the owner can _____ or sell it. The owner can also _____ a license. This _____ someone else _____ the patented item. Some people sell licenses for large amounts of money. There are utility patents, design patents, and _____ patents. That's right. It is actually possible to patent a flower or a bush.

Cool Reading 1-Unit 03 [Track 09-12]

Listen and fill in the blanks.

p28, Passage 9 [Track 09]

Acne is a big problem for many teens. But there are a lot of myths about it. Let's look at some of them.

Q. This morning when I woke up, I looked in the mirror and cried out in shock. I had a huge pimple _____! Should I pop the pimple to get rid of it? from Nina

A. No. If you _____ the pimple, more germs will appear on your face. Popping pimples can _____ scars _____, too.

Q. I'm so upset with the pimples on my forehead. They seem never to go away. Should I _____ my face more? Help! from Jessie

A. Washing your face too much can irritate your skin. That can _____ you _____ more pimples. Washing your face twice a day is enough.

Q. Someone said that adults never get acne. Is that true? from Chris

A. _____! Adults can get acne. According to research, 25% of adult men and 50% of adult women have acne _____ during their lives.

p30, Passage 10 [Track 10]

Take a look at the beach. Don't _____. There is nothing wrong with the picture. The beach is really _____. You are looking at Panjin Red Beach in China. The beach itself is located around 30 kilometers southwest of Panjin City. What makes the beach red? There is no _____ at this beach. Instead, it is covered with a unique type of seaweed. In summer, the seaweed looks green, but it changes colors and becomes bright red _____.

The _____ time of the year to see the beach is _____ or October. Although many _____ would love to go there, most of the area is off-limits. The beach belongs to a nature preserve. Endangered birds such as crowned cranes and black beaked gulls live there. As a result, people can only _____ a small part of the beach.

p32, Passage 11 [Track 11]

Have you seen anyone _____ or near a subway station selling the magazine Big Issue? Do you know _____ those vendors are? They are homeless and unemployed people. They are _____ the magazine to avoid getting money from the government or charities. They are trying to help themselves.

Big Issue was founded in Great Britain in 1991. It has articles written by professional journalists. The homeless and unemployed _____ the magazine for half off the cover price. And they can keep all the money they earn from selling it. This way, they can _____ and improve their lives.

Nowadays, Big Issue is sold on four _____ continents. Thanks to it, thousands of people around the world have become productive members of society. They truly represent the magazine's slogan: "A hand _____ and not a hand _____."

p34, Passage 12 [Track 12]

Many people love to _____ gum. But almost all of them have the same complaint: Gum loses its flavor too quickly. A few minutes after chewing gum, it suddenly has no _____. Why does this happen?

Gum has several ingredients, including artificial flavoring. The flavors of the gum affect how long the tastes _____. For instance, spearmint, peppermint, and cinnamon are three of the most _____ flavors of gum. One reason for this is that they keep their flavor the longest.

As you chew gum, your mouth creates _____ saliva. All of this saliva softens the gum and releases the artificial flavors in it. After a while, the saliva breaks down the artificial flavors and dissolves the sugar in them. The flavoring slowly disappears, which makes the gum lose its taste. When that happens, _____ get a new piece of gum.

Cool Reading 1-Unit 04 [Track 13-16]

Listen and fill in the blanks.

p38, Passage 13 [Track 13]

In 1902, Theodore "Teddy" Roosevelt was the American president. Roosevelt loved doing outdoor activities, especially _____. One day, he went on a hunt in Mississippi with his friends. They found a bear that looked in poor condition. Roosevelt refused to _____ the animal. He thought killing it would be _____.

The _____ about the president's act spread around the country. Many artists drew cartoons about it. A storeowner in New York City saw one of these cartoons and got a sudden idea. He and his wife made a stuffed bear. They wrote to Roosevelt and asked for permission to _____ the bear _____ him. It would be a reminder of the bear he saved. The president _____, so they called the toy a Teddy bear. The toy was an instant hit. Today, Teddy bears are some of the most popular children's toys in the world.

p40, Passage 14 [Track 14]

Some people love dogs while others _____ cats. Many times, their personalities _____ their pets. So are you a dog person or a cat person? Let's take a short quiz and find out.

1. Would you like to work together on a team?

Yes, I'd love to. No, I prefer to act by myself.

2. _____ when you are with others? I feel okay. I feel uncomfortable.

3. Which of the following do you normally do? make plans act immediately

4. Which do you prefer?

doing the usual activities trying _____ activities

5. How do you _____ with others? directly indirectly

6. What _____ of person are you? generous selfish

7. How do you feel before a _____?

I'm relaxed. I'm very _____.

Each time your answer is the first box, give yourself one point for dogs. If your answer is the second box, give yourself one point for cats. Did you get the answer you were _____?

p42, Passage 15 [Track 15]

Hip-Hop music is popular in urban areas around the world. Have you ever seen some hip-hop musicians that don't _____ lyrics? Instead, they _____ other sounds with their mouths, lips, tongues, and _____. When they imitate _____ like drumbeats and music rhythms, they are beatboxing.

In the 1970s, some musicians used preprogrammed drum machines to avoid using real drummers. Those machines were called beatboxes. In _____ times, Doug E. Fresh was _____ "human beatbox" when he started beatboxing in the 1980s. He and other beatboxers don't just make sounds _____. They use their hands, legs, and other body parts to create _____ sounds. In doing so, they have created an all new type of music.

p44, Passage 16 [Track 16]

"_____ tuning in tonight, sports fans. Everyone's excited about the upcoming 2110 Martian Olympics. There should be lots of exciting events. In the long jump, Ray Jackson _____ to break his Martian record by jumping more than 30 meters. And Tina Gonzalez expects to set a new record in the 100-meter skip."

Can people jump farther on Mars than on Earth? The answer is yes. Why? The reason is that the gravity on Mars is _____% of that on Earth. So a 100kg person will only seem to _____ 38kg. There is little air resistance on Mars, too. Those two factors will _____ people _____ very far on Mars.

What about running _____ Mars? Sprinters there will not be able to run faster. People taking long steps will _____ because of Mars's low gravity, so they will move _____. Instead, people will have to skip to move quickly.

Cool Reading 1-Unit 05 [Track 17-20]

Listen and fill in the blanks.

p48, Passage 17 [Track 17]

One Sunday, a farmer told his son to put the saddle on the mule. When the boy tried doing that, the mule said, "Why do I have to work _____?" Surprised, the boy dropped the saddle and ran into the house. "Dad, the mule talked," the boy yelled. "Don't you even know how to saddle a mule?" the farmer asked. "But the mule doesn't _____ work on Sunday," the boy responded. The farmer _____ to go to the barn to saddle the mule himself. In the barn, as he grabbed the saddle, the mule said, "_____?" The farmer _____ the saddle and ran out of the barn. "I've never _____ a mule _____ before," he said. "Me neither," said his dog. The farmer ran inside his house and _____ the door. "The mule spoke," the farmer told his wife. "What?" she responded. "Then, when I said, 'I've _____ heard a mule speak before,' the dog said, 'Me neither,'" the farmer stated. "That's _____," said the farmer's wife. "What's crazy about that?" asked the cat. "Haven't you ever heard of a talking mule?"

p50, Passage 18 [Track 18]

You are walking home, and it is _____. Suddenly, a black cat appears. It looks like it is going to _____ the street ahead of you. In this situation, what would you do? Would you let the cat walk across your path or _____ from it?

Most Americans would avoid the cat and _____ a different way. These superstitious people believe black cats are unlucky. In the _____, people associated the color black with evil. And they thought that witches kept black cats. Nowadays, a _____ superstition is that anytime a black cat crosses a person's _____, that person will have bad luck.

But in other parts of the world, such as England and Japan, black cats are considered _____. The Japanese even have black "welcoming cats" to wish people good health. In Scotland, black cats are a _____ that someone will get some unexpected money. What kind of luck something represents often depends on the country. This is especially true of black cats.

p52, Passage 19 [Track 19]

Hi. My name is Ashley. I'm a fifteen-year-old girl who went _____ shortly after birth. For a long time, my condition made me feel _____. But my life has improved greatly since I learned about text-to-speech programs.

I can "read" emails, books, and articles with these programs, which have opened an entire new world to me. And I use speech-to-text programs to type _____.

When I _____, I _____ worry about getting cheated. An app on my smartphone identifies my money for me.

Voice-command technology lets disabled people do many activities. It gives us access to computers, cars, and other equipment. I can give verbal commands to my computer, and it does exactly _____ I want. Thanks to Google Glass, which is like wearing a computer on your face, paralyzed people can _____ their wheelchairs. Isn't all of that cool?

p54, Passage 20 [Track 20]

In the 1980s in France, David Belle and some of his friends started a noncompetitive urban sport. They wanted to unite the human _____ and _____ to defeat obstacles. The _____ was parkour, which is called free-running in the English-speaking world.

People who do parkour are called traceurs. They don't see objects such as benches, telephone poles, and fences as objects in their way. Instead, traceurs leap over the benches. They _____ the telephone poles and _____ around them, and they climb over the fences.

Parkour is a great way to _____ since you don't need any special equipment. And it is all about self-improvement. It encourages people to _____ their limitations. But they can also expand their abilities by training their minds and bodies. By practicing, after a while, you won't have to walk _____ another fence. Instead, you can simply jump over it _____ a traceur.

Cool Reading 1-Unit 06 [Track 21-24]

Listen and fill in the blanks.

p58, Passage 21 [Track 21]

How much do you actually know about dreaming? Here are some interesting facts about dreams:

1. Most people dream _____ a night.
2. Most people dream in color, but some people dream in black and white.
3. Blind people dream, too. Their dreams involve _____ other than sight.
4. Animals such as dogs and cats dream.
5. Even though people's personal experiences heavily influence their dreams, some dreams are universal. People _____ dream about falling, being chased, and being lost.
6. In your dreams, you see _____ people who you have already seen. You might think a face in your dream is _____, but it might be the shopkeeper you saw last week.
7. Some people are capable of lucid dreaming. They are _____ that they are dreaming, so they can control the actions in their dreams.

p60, Passage 22 [Track 22]

"Good afternoon, sir. I'd like to purchase these items, please," says the _____ as he hands over some money. The shopkeeper responds, "That's okay. You don't have to _____ me _____ these items," but he _____ the money.

"Would you like to come to my house for dinner?" a man asks his coworker.

However, the man thinks, "I hope he says no. I can't _____ him, but I must _____ him to my home anyway."

Incidents like these happen in Iran all the time. In Iran, yes does not always _____ yes.

The reason people behave like this has to do with taroof, which is a form of behavior in Iran. Due to taroof, Iranians often say something that they do not mean. To most people, taroof is difficult to _____, but it is simply a way of life for Iranians.

p62, Passage 23 [Track 23]

Do you _____ while you are sleeping? Sure, you do. You can sleep and breathe at the same time. This may sound silly, but what if you had to be _____ in order to breathe? Fortunately, we humans do not have to deal with this problem. But dolphins do. Let's find out how dolphins manage to sleep and breathe.

Dolphins _____ half of their brain _____ _____ . The other half remains conscious. That enables dolphins to go to the surface of the water and breathe _____ _____ _____ .

Doing that keeps them from drowning. After a while, the sleeping half wakes up, and _____ _____ _____ goes to sleep. Dolphins do that around eight hours _____ _____ . Not only do they have to maintain their oxygen level, but dolphins must also be aware of potential predators in the area. That _____ their ability to sleep. Like all other animals, dolphins want to protect themselves.

p64, Passage 24 [Track 24]

Imagine having no home. Instead, you move constantly. You might wander to _____ herds of animals or to _____ _____ warmer weather. Does this lifestyle sound appealing?

In the past, all humans were nomads. These humans were hunter-gatherers who wandered the land. They hunted animals and also _____ fruits and vegetables when they became ripe. Humans lived nomadic lives for thousands of years. Then, they _____ _____ and made permanent settlements.

But not everyone stopped wandering. Today, _____ _____ 30-40 million nomads around the world. They are often shepherds or goatherds. Their sheep and goats need food, and that _____ these people to roam. There are also other kinds of modern-day nomads, such as people who simply enjoy traveling. These people may _____ years or decades _____ through various countries. They live and work in different places for short periods of time. Then, they go elsewhere.

Cool Reading 1-Unit 07 [Track 25-28]

Listen and fill in the blanks.

p68, Passage 25 [Track 25]

One day, Charles Plumb was at a restaurant. A man came up to him and said, "You're Captain Plumb." "That's right," Plumb answered. "You flew jets in the Vietnam War from the aircraft carrier Kitty Hawk. You were shot down and spent six years in a prison camp." Plumb was stunned and responded, "_____?" The man answered, "I _____ your parachute."

That night, Plumb couldn't help _____ that man. He thought, "I saw him on the Kitty Hawk many times, but I _____ acknowledged him. Yet that man _____ my life."

Today, Plumb often speaks about that event. He asks people, "_____ packs your parachute? Who is the person that helps you get through each day? Be sure to thank that person when you can."

p70, Passage 26 [Track 26]

Dear Mr. Advice,

I just started middle school and I _____ it. I don't _____ in with the other students. And I'm _____ my studies as well. Help!

Jiwon

Dear Jiwon,

Middle school can be _____, but give it a chance. In the meantime, here are a few _____ that should make it a bit easier.

You'll never _____ if you don't talk to people. _____ other students with a smile. Be friendly, nice, and _____. Then people will want to be friends with you. In addition, _____ in touch with your old friends and don't ignore them.

To do _____ in class, pay close attention to your teachers. _____ be distracted by playing with your cell phone or passing notes. Instead, write down the important things that the teacher says in class and _____ every night.

Try to enjoy your time in middle school by playing a sport or joining a club. It will be a great chance to learn what you like to do. Good luck with middle school, Jiwon.

Mr. Advice

p72, Passage 27 [Track 27]

Litterbugs are everywhere. There are even litterbugs _____ Mount Everest. Because of them, it has the nickname "The World's Highest Garbage Dump." Climbing Mount Everest, which is 8,848 meters _____, is extremely difficult. To make their climb easier, many climbers _____ their trash on the mountain. They leave behind cans, food wrappers, and even tents. The government of Nepal got tired of these litterbugs. So it made a new law : All climbers must come down the mountain with at least 8 kilograms of trash. That is roughly the _____ of weight climbers take up the mountain. Therefore, they need to _____ the same amount back down. If any climbers don't do that, they won't be allowed to visit Mount Everest again. By cleaning up Mount Everest, they can show _____ their maturity _____ love for the environment. You might never visit Mount Everest. However, you can still contribute to the _____. Just refuse to litter and help your own community be _____ of garbage.

p74, Passage 28 [Track 28]

Brian has to give a presentation in his history class today. Right before he starts speaking, his stomach makes a loud _____. Everyone starts laughing. Brian is so embarrassed he can't even say a word. Why did his stomach start growling? He had too much _____ in his stomach or small intestines. Everybody knows that a growling stomach may mean you are _____. But air moving in your intestines can also cause noises if you _____ lots of air or have food that they cannot digest. Thus your stomach may make grumbling, growling, and other odd noises. How can you _____ a growling stomach? Simple. Avoid having an _____ stomach. You _____ eat several small meals throughout the day.

Cool Reading 1-Unit 08 [Track 29-32]

Listen and fill in the blanks.

p78, Passage 29 [Track 29]

New Zealand's _____ rugby team, the All Blacks, is famous for something the players do before each _____. The players form two lines and then do a kind of _____. During the dance, the players grunt, clap, chant, and stomp. They may stick out their tongues at the other team. They make loud noises and slapping sounds as well. They are doing the haka.

The haka was originally created by the Maori, the _____ people of New Zealand. They perform many kinds of haka. Usually, the haka is a war dance, so the people doing it often have weapons. But some tribes do the haka for _____ occasions, such as to _____ guests. Today, there are many haka groups that do the dance throughout the country. Many of these groups performed a haka together in 2011 in _____ of the people of Christchurch, which suffered from a devastating earthquake.

p80, Passage 30 [Track 30]

Dear Rosie,

Last Saturday, my friends and I visited a clothing store together. While we were at the store, my friend Mike shoplifted a T-shirt. He told us to go shoplifting _____ at some other nearby stores. Every boy stole something except for me. My friends got _____, and they won't talk to me anymore. Should I _____ them if they suggest doing something wrong in the future?

Jason

Dear Jason,

You did the _____ thing. Your friends tried using peer pressure on you. _____ they even said, "Come on. Everyone's doing it." Peer pressure is _____ to resist because people want to be liked or to fit in. They also worry that other kids will _____ them if they don't act like everyone else in the group. Don't do something if you don't want to. Your _____ friends won't use peer pressure on you. Good luck.

Rosie

p82, Passage 31 [Track 31]

Sometimes in the summer, you can _____ bugs _____ on their backs with their legs sticking up. Every time you see a bug like that, you know it is dead. So why do bugs die upside down?

In most cases, bugs simply get knocked onto their backs. However, they are able to _____ over and get onto their feet again. But if they are injured or _____, they are unable to do that.

In other cases, something may _____ _____ the bugs' nervous systems. For instance, pesticides can affect them. They often cause bugs to roll over onto their backs and to go into convulsions. The bugs' nervous systems _____ at that time, and the bugs lack the ability to stand back up. As a result, other animals eat them, or they cannot get any food or water, so they _____ soon.

p84, Passage 32 [Track 32]

Around 9,600 B.C., an entire island suddenly _____ in a single day. Earthquakes and floods caused it to _____ beneath the ocean. It was Atlantis, the lost civilization.

According to Plato, a Greek philosopher, the founders of Atlantis were _____ god and half human. They created a wealthy and powerful civilization. The people of Atlantis had plenty of gold and silver, and they were highly advanced. The capital city on the main island was _____ and had palaces, temples, and other wonderful buildings.

Unfortunately, the morally upright people of Atlantis changed. They became _____ and amoral. This upset the gods, so they punished the people of Atlantis by causing the disasters.

For most of history, people thought Atlantis was a _____. But some people are convinced it actually existed. There are many theories about the _____ of Atlantis. Cuba, Spain, Thera, and South America are some possible locations. Nobody knows if Atlantis was real or not, but the search for it continues to this day.

Cool Reading 1-Unit 09 [Track 33-36]

Listen and fill in the blanks.

p88, Passage 33 [Track 33]

Victoria saw a movie yesterday and loved it. She thought the soundtrack was great, too. In fact, one song from the movie got stuck in her head. She _____ the song again and again. After a while, it started driving her crazy. Victoria had an earworm.

An earworm sounds like a _____ bug. But it is not _____. It is the term we use when you can't get a song out of your _____. Instead, the song keeps running through your head.

_____ do people get earworms? Many times, the song is very catchy, and the melody usually _____, so that makes it easy to remember. Songs like YMCA and The Lion Sleeps Tonight are common earworms. People also get earworms for various reasons. People, memories, smells, and even stress can _____ people _____ certain songs.

p90, Passage 34 [Track 34]

The Ice Hotel: An Experience You'll Never Forget

Are you looking to have the _____ of a lifetime? Then you should come to Sweden and _____ at the Ice Hotel.

The Ice Hotel is in Jukkasjärvi, Sweden. The entire building is made of ice _____ which was taken from the nearby Torne River. The furniture is made of ice. There are even ice _____ and other decorations in the hotel, too. Since everything is made of ice, we are only _____ from December to March. But don't worry. You won't _____. We _____ our guests with furs and other ways to stay _____.

Every year, we _____ a new hotel. The hotel looks different every year because we hire different designers and artists than the year before. We have 60 rooms of _____ types. You can stay in a northern lights room, a snow room, an ice room, or an art suite. Call now and arrange for the most unique hotel stay you'll ever have!

p92, Passage 35 [Track 35]

Australian Nick Vujicic is an author, musician, and actor. Born without arms and legs, he enjoys fishing, painting, and swimming. His condition depressed him _____ _____ he tried to kill himself twice. But, thanks to his religion, friends, and family, he managed to turn his life around.

When Nick was seventeen, he started speaking to other students. He shared his _____ attitude toward life. During one speech, a girl started crying and asked Nick if she could _____ him. She _____ Nick _____ telling her that she was beautiful just as she was.

Later, Nick founded the group Life without Limbs and started giving motivational talks to millions of people. Everywhere he goes, he hugs people. He _____ them _____ themselves, to have big dreams, and always to have _____. Nick's upbeat message and hugs have affected countless lives all around the world.

p94, Passage 36 [Track 36]

Mr. Kim _____ a flight in Incheon at three PM on Monday. Thirteen hours later, he _____ Los Angeles. It is still Monday. And it is eleven AM. Did Mr. Kim take a time machine? No. He simply passed through many time zones.

As the Earth spins, different parts of it experience day and night, which is why people came up with time zones. The Earth moves around 15 _____ per hour; therefore, there are 24 time zones.

One time zone runs through Greenwich, a suburb of London. The time there is called Greenwich Mean Time, or GMT. To the _____ of Greenwich, each time zone is an hour earlier than GMT. And each time zone to the _____ of it is an hour later.

Most of the world's countries are in a single time zone. Some _____ ones, such as Russia and the United States, may be in three or more of them though.

As for Los Angeles, it is 17 hours _____ Incheon. That is how Mr. Kim manages to arrive _____ he left.

Cool Reading 1-Unit 10 [Track 37-40]

Listen and fill in the blanks.

p98, Passage 37 [Track 37]

In 2014, Merriam-Webster, which prints _____, added 150 new words and definitions for words that already exist. What are some of those words? They include selfie, catfish, and pho. Many of the new words are related to changes in modern technology. As technology changes, the English language itself changes.

For instance, a selfie is a _____ a person takes of him or herself _____ a digital camera or a cell phone. Then, the person usually posts it to social media. Catfish was _____ in the dictionary. But a new definition was added for it. It refers to a person who assumes a _____ identity on the Internet to trick or cheat other people.

English also regularly takes words from other languages. Pho is _____ of these words. It is a Vietnamese soup with noodles.

p100, Passage 38 [Track 38]

One Sunday every winter, more than 100 million people in the United States watch an event _____ . What are so many people's eyes on? They are watching the Super Bowl.

The Super Bowl is the championship _____ of the National Football League. The top two teams in the league play to determine the champion of the entire NFL. Nowadays, the game _____ in the last week of January or the first week of February. The day of the game is called Super Bowl Sunday.

The _____ day is fun for everyone. People have Super Bowl parties at their homes. They _____ their friends, family members, and coworkers, and they eat pizza, chicken wings, and other foods together. Even the commercials are memorable. Many companies _____ to make special commercials just for the most-watched TV event of the year.

p102, Passage 39 [Track 39]

Have you ever tried bubble tea? Did you _____ what those delicious black balls, or pearls were? Those pearls are made from tapioca, which comes from the root of the cassava plant.

The cassava plant _____ in tropical areas such as Brazil. It is actually poisonous. But by carefully soaking it in water and drying it afterward, humans can eat tapioca. Once it has been prepared, it has a number of uses. For example, tapioca pudding and tea are _____. And people everywhere make tapioca flour and then bake bread with the flour. It keeps moisture in, so pastries with tapioca do not get dry. It is thick and chewy, so _____ is fun _____. And since tapioca is gluten free, people who cannot eat gluten _____ it. Tapioca is also an _____ thickener. People add it to soups and stews when they are _____ watery. Its numerous uses make tapioca a very versatile food in kitchens around the world.

p104, Passage 40 [Track 40]

While the moon is just a huge rock orbiting the Earth, it _____ in the night sky. The moon, however, produces no _____ like the sun does. So why is it very bright?

The moon and the _____ in the solar system get light from the sun. When the moon appears to glow, it is actually bouncing sunlight from the day side of the Earth to the night side. There, people can see it.

The moon also reflects light during the day, but the lighter sky and the sun make its glow less apparent. However, the moon changes _____ in the sky. During the lunar cycle, the moon is sometimes _____ the sun and sometimes far away from it. When the moon is _____ the new moon stage, it is closer to the sun. It reflects more of the sun's light back to the Earth. As a result, you can _____ see the moon during the day.