The hour hand is on 9. The minute hand is on 12.

Oh no! It's 9 o'clock. She's late for school!

It's 11:30. Time for lunch!

Mouse goes to the cafeteria.

They are serving onion soup.

Yuck! Mouse hates onions.

Now, the hour hand is on 12. The minute hand is on 6.

Math class is at 12:30.

Uh oh. Mouse doesn't have her math book.

At 3:00, Mouse goes home.

What a terrible day!

B: Mars School is having a talent show.

Nix and I will perform a song.

We need to practice a lot.

On Monday, I learn the lyrics.

But Nix doesn't join me. He plays basketball in the gym.

On Tuesday, I practice singing. Nix plays video games.

The talent show is on Wednesday.

Nix and I perform our song.

Oh no! Nix doesn't know the lyrics.

We sound terrible!

(B2:) "I'm sorry," Nix says.

He promises to practice next time.

Brother and Sister Bear say, (B1,G:) "Yum!"

Baby Bear pushes his salad away. (B2:) "I hate vegetables!"

The next day, Sister Bear cuts some vegetables.

Broccoli, carrots, cucumbers!

(G:) "Broccoli looks like trees," she says.

Baby Bear likes trees. He tastes some broccoli.

(G:) "Now, try a carrot," Sister Bear says.

Baby Bear loves the color orange. He tries a carrot. (B2:) "Yummy!"

Next, he tries cucumbers.

He says, (B2:) "These are good too. I'll try more vegetables!"

W: Magnets have two ends.

One is the north pole.

The other is the south pole.

Put two north poles together.
They will push each other apart.
South poles push each other apart too.
But north and south poles pull each other.

Magnets also pull some metals.
We use metals to make coins and scissors.
Magnets can pull these things.
But magnets can't pull non-metals.
Plastic, glass, wood, paper. Magnets can't pull these.

I am having a party at the park.

In the morning, I look out the window.

Oh no! The sky is dark and cloudy.

(G1:) "Should we cancel the party?" I say.

Mom says, (W:) "Wait a little longer."

But it starts to rain. I am so sad.

There is a knock at the door.

(G2:) "Surprise!" my friend, Emma, yells.

All my friends are here too.

They bring in cake, pizza, and presents. We have a wonderful party!

G: Every spring, my class visits a farm.

We go to a strawberry farm this year.

We can do many things here.

First, we go to the greenhouses.

It is hot and humid inside.

There are many strawberry plants.

We pick ripe red strawberries.

Next, we make strawberry pancakes.

Our teacher makes the batter.

We wash and slice the strawberries.

Then we fry the pancakes. They are delicious!

After, we bring some strawberries home.

Our families try the yummy strawberries

Uh oh! There is no bug spray.

Beth's family sets up the tent.

They build a campfire and roast hot dogs.

They have a fun time.

At night, the mosquitoes come out.

A mosquito bites Beth. Ouch!

Beth scratches and scratches.

The bite gets bigger and bigger.

More mosquitoes chase Beth. She hides in the tent.

Oh no! She has so many mosquito bites!

Next time, she will bring bug spray.

W: The leaves are changing colors.

You can make a fall tree.

First, trace your hand onto brown paper.
Draw a long rectangle at the bottom.
Next, cut out your drawing.

You need some colorful paper.
Fall leaves are orange, yellow, and red.
Draw many leaves and cut them out.

Now, it's time to put everything together.
Paste the leaves onto the branches.
Finally, make a circle with the base.
The tree can stand up!

[Track 19]

W: Page 41

M: Winter is cold and snowy.

Many animals cannot find food.

They take a long winter nap.

In fall, bears eat until they are full.

Then they find a cave.

They sleep there all winter.

Groundhogs are like bears. They eat a lot in fall.

Then they dig tunnels.

They stay inside during cold days.

Squirrels make nests in tree trunks.
They store food in their nests.
They sleep there in winter.
The nests are safe from the cold weather.

They find a gingerbread house.

(B:) "Look at all the candy!" Hansel points to the house. (B:) "Let's eat some!"

Gretel is nervous. (G:) "Just a little."

Suddenly, a witch jumps out and catches Hansel.

She locks him in a cage.

(W:) "Clean my house!" she shouts at Gretel.

That night, the witch decides to eat Hansel.

She turns on the oven.

Gretel pushes the witch into the oven.

Gretel frees Hansel. They run home.

[Track 23]

W: Page 49

M: It is time to go back to school.

Do you want to make new friends?

Manners are important!

In the morning, greet your friends and smile.

Be polite. Always say "Please" and "Thank you."

At lunchtime, have good table manners.

Don't spill your food. Eat quietly. Don't make rude noises.

After lunch, go outside with your friends.

You can play a game on the playground. Wait your turn.

It's almost time to go home.

Help the teacher clean up the classroom.

Say goodbye to your friends!

[Track 27]

W: Page 57

M: Books and pencils are solids.

Solids have a fixed shape.

You can hold them in your hands.

Water, juice, and milk are liquids.

You can't hold liquids. But you can see them.

Pour water into a glass.

It changes shape and fills the glass.

There are gases in the air.

Air doesn't have a shape. It moves freely.

You can't see or hold a gas. But you can breathe it in.

Clean air keeps you alive!

W: fly fly

[Track 33]

W: Page 69

M: Butterflies begin as an egg.

The egg hatches. A larva crawls out.

We call the larva a caterpillar.

Some caterpillars are very colorful.

Caterpillars like to eat leaves.

They eat and eat. They grow very fat.

Then they become a pupa.

The pupa hangs from a branch.

The caterpillar changes inside.

Finally, the pupa hatches.

The caterpillar is a beautiful butterfly!

The butterfly eats the pupa.

It stretches its wings.

Then it flies away. It will lay its own eggs.
